Adrian first joined Mohan Groble Scolaro in 2018 as a law clerk while completing his final semester of law school. Having always wanted to use his affinity for solving difficult problems, Adrian sought to hone and broaden his skill set in a variety of fields

Adrian is a proficient litigator, who most recently represented landowners and property management companies in real estate disputes, appearing in court daily and efficiently managing a large case load. Prior to that, Adrian represented insurance companies in subrogation litigation, as well as companies and individuals in complex business and corporate litigation. Adrian has succeeded at all stages, from initial consultations, pre-trial litigation and motion practice, to trials and drafting and presenting appellate briefs.

Adrian returned to Mohan Groble Scolaro in 2023 with the ability to navigate difficult large-scale issues and work with clients, opposing counsels, and courts to achieve the best possible outcomes for his clients. He handles a wide variety of cases, including FEHA, commercial matters, labor and employment litigation, insurance coverage disputes, real estate disputes and appellate/post judgment litigation for clients ranging from railroads to heavy manufacturers to privately held LLC's and individuals.

Adrian earned his J.D. from the University of Illinois College of Law in 2018. While at Illinois, Adrian participated in the Jerome Mirza Trial Academy and was on the University of Illinois Law Review editorial board. Adrian earned his B.A. from Lawrence University in 2015, where he majored in Philosophy and minored in Latin. In his free time Adrian enjoys volunteering at Paws and Claws Rescue in Evanston.

“ Adrian’s vast litigation experience and proficient handling of difficult problems has earned the recognition of excellence from clients, colleagues and judges. ”
